

Upcoming Webinar program to disseminate our COST Action CA18213

Rural NEET Youth Network (RNYN) is a four-year COST Action to be conducted between October of 2019 October of 2023. Its paramount aim is to develop a model of comprehension for rural NEETs' risk and protective factors underlying social exclusion, based on the bioecological model. The Action general aim is supported by three specific goals: to build up future research capacity around the topic, especially in Eastern and Southern countries most affected by higher proportions of rural NEETs; to establish an online observatory of rural NEETs that will serve as a synthesizer and clearing house for research data, methodological tools and best-practices concerning rural NEETs; and to foster knowledge use by policy makers and practitioners at local, regional, national and/or international levels.

The Action currently gathers more than 80 representatives from 31 different countries. We have just launched our official website: <https://www.rnyobservatory.eu/>

This Webinar program steered by RNYN Core Group to be conducted in June and July 2020, involving web-based activities, presentations and discussions to engage the Action members, but also national and international stakeholders. RNYN webinar call 2020 includes 3 formats:

COST Action CA18213 Rural NEET Youth Network: Modeling the risks underlying rural NEETs social exclusion
